FIRE IN HAY SHEDS.

Fire broke out in the hay sheds north of the railroad track near the Canning Factory at about 9:30 Sunday evening.
The excursion train from Detroit was just pulling into town and the flames were discovered by some of the excusionists. An alarm was immediately sent in, but none of the firemen at first had any idea of where the fire was located, and some valuable time was lost.
But at last the hose was laid and streams of water were shot into the flames, which successfully checked their headway.

Fortunately the sheds were not full hay or wool. In the south end shed owned by Wm. Fletcher, there were 39 bags of wool, all of which were gotten out without having been injured, and were taken to Doughty Middleton's sheds. Some hay in the shed occupied by E. D. Hollenbeck caught fire but was easily put out.

The losses have not been adjusted as yet. Mr. Hollenbeck lost a ton of hay amounting to about $10. Geo. McIntyre's shed was the most seriously damaged of any.

NOTES.

What was the matter with our firemen last Sunday evening? Did they forget to get up or were they counting?
They were certainly a minus quantity when it came to running out the hose carts. On No. 2 only one fireman was visible, with four citizens, toiling up the road in the deep mud. And then No. 2 had hose laid and connected before No. 1 arrived on the scene with citizens again predominating. Citizens battered down the doors, and fought fire; citizens emptied the sheds of 39 bales of wool. Yet not a look-in do they get on pay day.

Another thing that should be remedied is the way the alarm is given. No one can tell in the slightest degree where the fire may be. The city was once divided into fire districts, and the whistle gave short blasts according to the number of the district in which the fire was. This method worked all right while in use, and it would be a good plan to inaugurate the system again, if nothing better can be afforded.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

During the past week two important business changes took place within the city of Yale.

The Central Drug Store and telephone business heretofore owned by J.
E. Staley is now under the firm name of Staley & Bricker. The new partner is Elijah Bricker a long time resident of Yale and vicinity. The Expressor wishes the new firm abundant success.

Rounds & Holden of the Bon Ton have dissolved partnership. Mrs. J. C.
Holden retiring. The business which has been large and lucrative is being conducted by Mrs. Chas. Rounds in the same stand. It is hoped that the business may increase.

Free from Alcohol

Since May, 1906, Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been entirely free from alcohol. If you are in poor health, weak, pale, nervous, ask your doctor about taking this non-alcoholic tonic and alterative. If he has a better medicine, take his. Get the best always. This is our advice.

We publish our formulae
We banish alcohol
from our medicines
We urge you to consult your doctor

A sluggish liver means a coated tongue, a bad breath, and constipated bowels.
The question is, "What is the best thing to do under such circumstances?" Ask your doctor if this is not a good answer:
"Take laxative doses of Ayer's Pills."
